A Glimpse at Our Holiday Season by Desiree Rodriguez

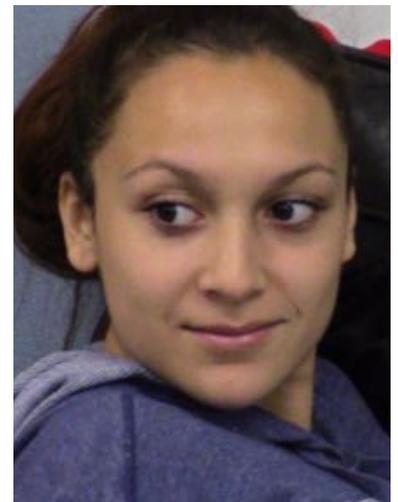

This past holiday season was a whole new experience for me and for many of the new students at Operation New Hope (ONH). Many charter schools do not hold anything special for Thanksgiving or Christmas. Therefore, it does not feel much like a family setting. For students attending different schools, their holiday season feels as though it is a time of stress, pressure, and a rush to get work done in desperate need to have a break off from school. Many educators and students end up forgetting what the holiday season is truly about..... Family. However, this is not the case at ONH.

Operation New Hope feels so much like a family throughout the school year and even more when the holidays come around. I have been at ONH for only a couple of months and I have never felt so comfortable at any school as I have at ONH. The staff has done everything in their power to make the holiday season feel special, loved, and make the holidays come to life. For Christmas we are also having a potluck and small white elephant gift exchange, even though we are to bring in a gift, not many of us have money. The staff really tries to make it fair for everyone and put a limit on the amount of money we spend on gifts so that everyone can participate and no one feels left out.

For me at my home Christmas and Thanksgiving is a very special time of year and my family celebrates them in such an extravagant way. It is very exciting and special to see that my school, Operation New Hope, also brings these two holidays to the students and makes it even more special for everyone. We all feel as if we are part of their family and like I stated earlier brings these holidays to life and makes them special for all the students at Operation New Hope. I can not express enough how amazing Operation New Hope is to be willing to bring this to their students even though they do not need to and are not obligated to do so. The staff does it out of the kindness of their hearts, and for that I am truly grateful For my ONH family!

My name is Elci Rosales and I am 21 years old. I am from Rancho Cucamonga and a mother of two boys who are 2 and 5 years old.

November is one of my favorite months due to the very reason that my whole family gets together to enjoy all kinds of food we serve on Thanksgiving Day. This is a wonderful experience for me and my kids. Each family member has a chance to bring something different to the table. My mom and grandma are the ones that make the turkey and ham as the main dish for Thanksgiving. We enjoy getting together as a family for Thanksgiving and enjoying the delicious food everyone brings to the table.

Christmas for my family is something very special. We enjoy Christmas because the family gets together. Christmas Day is a very hectic day for my little family of four. We have to visit my dad and mom one day and the next day we visit my boyfriends family. On Christmas Day with my family we play Christmas games and eat tamales. The little ones have a gift exchange between them and the adults usually play a gift exchange game. Christmas is a very busy day for my family, but at the end it is well worth it because of the new memories we make.

New Years is a little different for my family. Ever since we all grew up and now have our own families we have all gone our separate ways in celebrating New Years. I normally spend New Years with my boyfriends family since my family doesn't do anything anymore. I also go visit my father-in-law that is in prison for New Year's so he can see his grandkids. I can say New Years is not one of my favorite holidays, but I enjoy being around family on any holiday.

Being a mother of two boys during the holidays is fun, but yet stressful. Thanksgiving is always enjoyable for my family; it's nothing but happiness and laughter. During Christmas even though its a very hectic month for me I love buying my kids new things and seeing them very happy opening their presents. New years for my family is an okay holiday but I enjoy my family company and seeing family that I don't get to see all the time. The holidays are something I actually look forward to every year for the family and the food we eat.

The love of family and the admiration of friends is much more important than wealth and privilege.

DO IT BECAUSE YOU CAN!

My name is Wayne Turner and I have been attending Operation New Hope for about a year now. One of my interests is physical fitness because it has helped me relieve stress in my life and much more.

In my own experience with exercising I have found that isolating your muscles when working out helps them the most. I feel that when I isolate my muscles I feel the burn and achieve maximum results. The routine I have is to allow time to recover in between the workouts to allow my muscles to heal and be ready for the next time I focus on the same muscle area. For example, when focusing on the abdominal area one can see more muscle toning occurring in that targeted area.

When it comes to exercising, most people believe that results are dependent on the hours you spend in the gym; however it's the complete opposite. A person's ideal body figure is determined upon your food diet. So, when exercising one must follow a strict diet otherwise your body will not receive the nutrients it needs to grow and reach your goals. When trying to gain weight one must find out how many calories he or she consumes a day and double that amount. Yet, when someone is trying to cut weight they need to intake less calories a day.

If you find yourself to be an athletic person or even above average in this area, then I would say you need to go the extra mile because it is harder for us to gain results. Most communities have gyms with private trainers, sports, and much more. You can also go as far as training with the fire squad running in the mountains with weighted vests and my personal favorite an elevation mask. It is a good idea to involve yourself in boot camps, MMA gyms, drink protein shakes, and or supplemental pills for faster results. Your overall goal is to push your body to its limits and go above and beyond because nobody knows your body like you. If you're not experiencing muscle failure you aren't push yourself hard enough.

With the little bit of tips I have shared. Ask yourself what are some of the guidelines that you can come up with for the kind of lifestyle you want and if you can put yourself through these extreme conditions and keep a well-balanced diet. I feel that most people can. It is up to your own self-motivation and willingness to keep on going. You will be surprised how fast you will see results.

Interview with an ONH Staff member (Ms. Cynthia)

By Shane Huffman

7. What is your favorite type of reading ?
Self awareness articles on MindBodyGreen.com.

8. Who were you surprised to see graduated , This past year ?
Ignacio Gamez: Because when he first started he was so closed off , but now he is thriving , and his willingness to succeed goes above and beyond his barriers.

An Interview with Robert Sega

By Ignacio Gamez

1. When you first decided to go to college; what field did you want to pursue?

Robert: At first, my choice was to get a philosophy degree.

2. Why did you choose to get a degree in philosophy?

Robert: I chose philosophy because I needed a higher degree that will mean something in life. But then I was eager and motivated to pursue a higher education in something else and decided to change my major.

3. What happened that made you decide to change your major?

Robert: I changed my major because I wanted to help people in my career. So, I changed it to a psychology major knowing that this would impact the lives of others.

4. Was there a specific reason that led you to want to dedicate yourself to helping people?

Robert: Yes, the reason why I did that was because my life was rough. A lot of my family members had died or went to prison. So, I didn't want to hurt my own family. I wanted to help them be better people in life.

5. How did your career as a therapist begin?

Robert: My therapy degree started 20 years ago at the original Operation New Hope (ONH) in Corona. During this time I had the opportunity to work with the founder Bill Degnan.

6. What was the reason you choose to work at ONH?

Robert: I needed to do community service hours, and a friend of mine referred me to Mr. Degnan.

7. After your community service hours were completed, what was your next step?

Robert: I decided then to "Help" out people and make a change in the world.?

8. How did you find your way back to ONH?

Robert: Upon completion of my Master's program for the MFT (Marriage Family Therapist) I needed to complete hours for my practicum. It just so happens that I did my hours at the new and improved ONH located in Rancho Cucamonga.

9. If you could say something to all of the students at John Muir what would that be?

Robert: "Watch your thoughts; they become words. Watch your words; they become actions. Watch your actions, they become habits. Watch your habits, they become character. Watch your character, it becomes your destiny".....

Jannelle and her Family

Life Change, One Leaf at a Time

My name is Jannell Terrell. I am 25 years old and a single mother with four daughters. I am currently struggling to make a living for myself. I desire to be a good example for my children. So, I am attending Operation New Hope as an adult to educate myself and become successful in life. This past summer, I became homeless finding myself driving out of state with nothing left to call home. I was miserable and made poor choices that wouldn't get me far. Dragging around four children and luggage was difficult during this time in my life.

One day, I received a call from my mother encouraging me to drive back to California because she was willing to help me. I drove six hours back to California finding myself receiving no help from my mother after all. Therefore, I began living out of my van and in motel homes. During this time I became aware that I was not living a stable lifestyle and had no guidance at this moment. I realized my life was a wreck and chaotic.

My only choice to do next was to go seek assistance for help at the Welfare office. That is when I was able to put my family in a two bedroom apartment moving my things from storage into our new home. The kids school was about to begin, so I had to find a school to enroll them in. Luckily, I found a school called Operation New Hope that allows students to earn a diploma between the ages of 16 to 24 years old. Being that I was at the age of twenty-four, I quickly enrolled myself and my little sister. My kids were enrolled at Dona Merced Elementary School. Luckily, all these schools are all located in Rancho Cucamonga which is an easier convenience for the whole family.

My opportunity so far has been a great blessing for me. During my first semester, I earned thirty-five credits which meant I was almost ready to graduate. But then I started to doubt myself thinking school was not for me. Hearing people say work instead of going to school because you're too old. Fortunately, someone I would call a mentor believed in me which has helped me reach my goals. Pushing myself to not give up; Marty helped me get a job. I am now working and my kids are in daycare and I am balancing a busy daily schedule towards my goals. I am five credits away in becoming a High School graduate. This has been a goal of mine these past eight years. I am now living a life that's transitioning towards success. Through Operation New Hope anything is possible.

The X-factor of Kobe Bryant By Davonte Hicks

I am going to share how Kobe stayed on one team during his whole career. Kobe was lucky to be drafted straight out of high school. As soon as he entered the NBA he earned many awards. Instantly, Kobe's career escalated.

Kobe was born August 23, 1978 in Philadelphia. He attended Lower Merion High School. His jersey number in high school was 33. After finishing with high school his jersey was retired in 1996. There were a lot of colleges that wanted him to play basketball for their school. Some examples include Duke in North Carolina, University of North Carolina, and Michigan State. However, Kobe didn't pick college ball.

There was one more step for Kobe to enter the draft. He had to play in the McDonald's All Star game. It was then that many scouts started noticing how good his skills were for being just fresh out of high school. So, The Hornets traded the pick to the Lakers.

His career in the NBA has been great and everyone knows that he is a natural leader. Kobe has won five championships with the Lakers. He also played in the All Star game sixteen times. Kobe's been in the NBA for nineteen years and his contract ends next year 2016. So, he will be in the NBA for a total of twenty years. Lucky for him, he has been on one team for his entire basketball playing career.

Death by Substance Abuse (Drugs)

There is an extremely high death rate due to drug abuse in our country. This includes suicides caused by overdose. The worst part is that the majority of the deaths are from under aged kids. Drugs have been sneaking its way into schools little by little. There are many reasons that someone might start to do drugs and why someone might try to commit suicide as a result from using.

One major reason young people begin using is due to peer pressure. Peer pressure is a big part of why someone might consider trying a drug for their first time. Whether a person did or didn't want to try it, somehow one can get curious over time and then the idea of trying it out will cross their mind. Some of these pressures can even come from the media. For instance, various drugs can be advertised on television to convince a person to buy their products such as cigarettes or alcohol. Sadly, it is extremely easy to get hooked on to it and difficult to quit. I am certain that we all know someone that has passed away from drug abuse.

Moreover, suicide is a very big, and yet sensitive topic. However, it has been happening a lot around us. Some celebrities have committed suicide by using drugs, and one example is Robin Williams. He actually had depression and was bipolar. This led him to using drugs which eventually led to his death.

Drugs are all around us and we can't hide from it, but we can do something about it. All we need to do is say no before you or anyone gets hooked. A better idea would be to exercise because it will give you a better and natural high. Not only is it going to make you feel good but it will get you in shape. Just remember to be the bigger person and just say NO. Protecting your health is your own choice and responsibility.

Interview with Ms. Nancy by Eddie Mendoza

Me: When and where did the teacher thing start ?

Ms. Nancy: It started when I was little girl. I used to play pretend as a teacher with my young brother and sisters. When I was a teen, I was given opportunities to teach in Sunday school classes and instruct tap dance and gymnastics to kids. I realized I was always in a leadership position.

Me: What was the first step you took to become a teacher ?

Ms. Nancy: I knew I needed a college degree in either Liberal Studies or Child Development. So, I chose to study at Cal State Fullerton.

Me: How did you feel during your first time subbing ?

Ms. Nancy: Scared and nervous to see how the kids were going to act and treat me.

Me: Did it go as you expected?

Ms. Nancy: It actually was a fun experience and the kids responded in a positive way. Some students would say " I was a cool teacher." I think this was the case because I was young and also I grew up in Pomona like many of them.

Me: How long were you a sub at PUSD?

Ms Nancy: About four and a half years.

Me: What was the wait to become an official teacher?

Ms. Nancy: In this economy teachers were being pink slipped and I didn't want to apply because I felt that as a first time teacher I would lose my job. I decided to wait until things were steady.

Me: What was the first school you subbed at ?

Ms. Nancy: Marshall Middle School. It was a terrible school with fights almost every day. Many students had bad attitudes. So, when I subbed there I made sure to set the tone and give clear expectations. I didn't put up with any nonsense. One thing that help relate with the students was to share a personal story about about an experience in attending school in Pomona.

Me: What gets you up in the morning?

Ms. Nancy: My passion for life. I am thankful that God is always watching out for me. The thing that gets me up in the morning is knowing that I am going to work and do something I enjoy doing, teaching. I wake up knowing that I have a chance to serve my Lord by helping others with their well being and growth of knowledge.

Me: How do you like teaching here at ONH ?

Ms. Nancy: " I LOVE IT! " I work with an amazing staff.

I'm starting to see the family culture and care everyone has for the students. I am truly blessed to work here at ONH.

An Interview with Ms. Jackie

By: Mariah Sanchez

Me: What is your educational background?

Jackie: I have a bachelors degree in psychology.

Me: What are you currently reading for enjoyment?

Jackie: I am reading "Bring Your A Game" book.

Me: What do you want to be doing in five years?

Jackie: I would like to have my masters degree in less than five years and to have a musical album out. I would also like to continue working with a youth development program such as Operation New Hope.

Me: List five adjectives that describe yourself?

Jackie: Adaptable, innovator, friendly, responsible, and adventurous.

Me: What is one of your weaknesses and how are you working to improve it?

Jackie: My weakness is procrastination. Periodically, I set short term goals to complete on time and have a mentor as my accountability.

Me: What interests do you pursue outside of the classroom?

Jackie: Music because I enjoy singing. Additionally, I love sports such as basketball.

Me: Why do you like teaching?

Jackie: It is a rewarding experience and very fulfilling.

Me: What subjects do you teach?

Jackie: I mainly teach math and other subjects when needed.

Me: What do you like most about teaching math?

Jackie: That there is an answer to every problem.

Me: How do you motivate your students to become active learners?

Jackie: I motivate my students by encouraging them and relating the information at hand to present life situations or experiences according to the student.

Me: Talk about a time with a troubling student you have taught to become better in math or any subject?

Jackie: I taught my brother whom is in sixth grade simple math such as dividing, subtraction, and multiplying. He did not understand what he was doing and I helped him through relating the problems to things that he enjoyed doing such as favorite soccer players, and video games- Clash of Clans. We used white boards and pictures to understand the concept.

Me: How do the assignments you give offer students the opportunity to express their creativity and individuality?

Jackie: They're able to explore how smart they are through their own creativity and imagination and reaching milestones they never thought possible.

Me: How do you provide support for students with exceptional abilities?

Jackie: I Love to test them through their memory skills and their ability to understand the material. Supporting them with positive encouraging words once they are able to show that they can do what they are working on.

My Goals by Stephanie Tarez

My name is Stephanie Tarez and I'm 22 years old. I have been attending Operation New Hope since July of 2014.

Do you ever feel like you don't know what your purpose in life is? My thoughts about this question is that if you do what you like doing...that is what your purpose in life is, and so, make that your goal. Accomplish what you enjoy doing. For example, I enjoy helping animals. So, one of my future goals is to become a vet and have my own business.

I'm going to share some ways in becoming a vet. First, I need to graduate from Operation New Hope and earn my high school diploma. Second, I am going to a community college to get my associate degree. Third, I'm going to get in the navy so that they can pay for my college fees. Last but not least, I am going to a university and study to become a vet.

This is what I'm currently doing to reach my goals. I am waking up early at 6:40am to get my daughter and I ready for school to be at school by 8:40am. I'm in school till 2:30pm the latest will be 4:00pm. I go home and get ready to go to the vet and volunteer. By volunteering at the vet it helps gain experience. Also, I have two dogs and one cat at home that I take care of. I also work part time and save money.

By 2021 I'm going to be 29 years old and by then I plan to be a vet and have my own business, so I can start helping animals. From there on I am also going to own an animal shelter so, I can find nice homes for them. When I'm in my late 30's I don't have to work. I am, hoping my business is going to continue helping animals. This business is going to belong to my daughter when she gets older.

My conclusion is that when you do something you like, you are making a difference in your own personal life. For example, I enjoy helping animals. Make your goal something you enjoy doing and if you make it your career it will not feel like a job.

Ideas During the Break by Natasha Cantu

My name is Natasha Cantu and I'm 17 years old. I have been attending Operation New Hope for a few months now. My goals are to get back up on my feet and achieve my dreams. So, for this upcoming break I will be participating in some great experiences by getting out of the house and spending time with my mother-in-law and fiance.

For starters, I will be doing a lot before the New Year comes along. I will be going on a racing boat with my Fiance and my Mother-in-law. When we are on the boat we are going to a MVP bar to chill there and meet a whole bunch of people. The thing I hope we do is to find out how fast the boat goes. We will be joining his three kids and ride in the Ocean Parade. I'm excited to see all the boats lit up in the middle of the ocean.

The second thing we are going to do is visit Big Bear to enjoy the snow and go sledding down the mountains. We are also going to ride through the snow on a snow mobile to the place that has instructors to teach us how to snow board. I know for starters I am going to be scared to try and snow board down the hill.

I'm not really sure what else I'm going to be experiencing for this coming break but hopefully it will be a whole lot more. I'm super excited for this break and for the opportunity to spend it with my other half and make fun memories before the New Year comes around the corner and school begins.

My new goals for this coming up year is to graduate as soon as possible and move to Moreno Valley and go to Platt College to study Video Graphics. I really want to makes games or websites, but both would also be fun. If that doesn't follow through the way I'm expecting it to, I also would love to help the kids that aren't in good environments at home. I can't wait for my life to really start, where it's time to be independent and start my career.

The Self- Discipline Through Martial Arts

My name is Robert Zozaya and I am a student at Operation New Hope. I was born in Santa Maria, California in 1996. Eleven years later I was introduced to Martial Arts. At this time in my life, I felt I needed to escape from my everyday life because I was not accepted by my family for not being pure hispanic . I was presented with problems every time I would come home from school. So I am glad to have found an interest that has been positive in my growth.

As I excelled in Taekwondo I noticed myself changing in drastic ways. I was taught self-discipline through consecutive practice. There are so many different types of martial arts out there in the world. These Martial arts demand and mold traits such as competitive discipline, respect, dedication, and compassion. How you use those traits and which ones you take and leave will determine the type of student you will become. There is a lot that goes on in the dojo besides just fighting and lessons. Some days we review the moves we have been learning prior to the day before. Other days we just relax and try to help those who are falling behind in our lessons.

There are certain requirements in almost all Martial arts. Those who are interested in learning must be in well enough physical health to participate at the rate of the class. If you have any health problems you should talk to your sensei before you plan on participating. During practice you never want to hurt a fellow student or be hurt. Practice is only for the body to better understand and read a situation that you may face in the real world.

Frosty Gets Frostbite

The wind is blowing, you can hear it in the trees.

They're whistling hard, this Christmas Eve.

It's freezing outside, a negative
100 degrees.

Its so cold even Frosty doesn't have a gleam.

Now, Frosty the snowman is usually a happy soul.

But this Christmas Eve it was way too cold.

No family and no friends to play
outside,

This Christmas is ruined, he cried and cried.

The day got colder, and the night got long.

Little Ol' Frosty lost his song.

No "thumpty, thump, thump",
singing- it felt so wrong,

Especially since there was no one to sing along.

He sighed as his body sleighed
through the snow,

His hat fell off because his head hung low.

His scarf blew away, Oh no! Oh no!

It gets so cold when you're all alone.

He sat sadly, and became as stiff as a beam.

Little Ol' Frosty got frostbite on his feet.

He could not move, and it began to spread.

It spread so quickly, it almost touched his head.

Its five till midnight, Christmas is almost here.

Im all alone, with so many tears.
He sighed and said, "Well, Merry
Christmas to me."

Maybe Santa will come...

I guess we will see.

New Job Experience

I'm Patrick Villareal and I am 17 years old. I started Operation New Hope about a year ago. Recently, my second oldest brother encouraged me to get a job at KFC and work with him. So, I checked to see what the hiring process is so that I can begin. First, I learned that I had to get my food handler card and my California ID. Luckily, Operation New Hope helped me get my food handlers card and they helped me take the test. Thankfully I passed the test.

Second thing I did was went online and apply. A few days after I applied and they called me in for an interview. They asked me a few questions about interests and other random questions. I guess they liked me because they hired me on the spot and had me go to work the same day for 5 hours. They have me there for 5 days a week and gave me 5 to 7 hours each day. It all paid off when I received my first check because for only 4 days I got a nice amount.

A week later I went to a bank to open a checking and savings account. This way I could put money away for college and for my future 64 Impala car. I know that if I put away a good amount of money on the side, I will be able to live in a nice apartment. I want to meet my goals and keep telling myself I could do it and not let anyone or anything distract me.

Thank you Toys for Tots & 29 Palms Marines

Blessings from our Partners in the Community

This past year, for the first time, Operation New Hope engaged in the Holiday spirit and celebrated Thanksgiving and Christmas for our students. We contributed towards a delicious feast and enjoyed participating in a White Elephant gift exchange party. The bondage of a family environment is important to the foundation of our program and we want all our students to know that regardless of any race, culture, socio-economic status, or background we are all family; one family.

Thanks to the United States Marine Corps Toys for Tots program we were able to make the Christmas holiday even more special for our students and their families. Every year this amazing program collects and distributes toys for low-income based communities, and this year Operation New Hope was delighted to be part of their contribution.

Thank you again to the Twenty-nine Palms Marine Corps for helping us help our families.

Also, an extended thank you to the CASAS Program who donated thirty Circus Vargas tickets and twelve Ontario Reign Hockey tickets. With the continuing support of other organizations we hope to continue serving our community.

Music is a way people can connect with their emotions no matter the genre. I believe that music can help bring out the problems and stress that people bottle up inside. Just like humans, music has a soul that is freeing. The one thing that certain people get mixed up with is the rhythm or flow of the beat. It is a remedy, but the mixture of both the beat and lyrics is healing to the point of freeing the minds. Here is one example of lyrics:

I wonder how would it be if the world had no fear no hate and a sadness with no tears and no more contemplating on broke years
 I always felt like the rich hated us broke kids because they thought we were aggressive there guns drawn and were still sketching
 I'm telling you these words are weapons
 I'm telling you this world is hectic
 I pray to God just to end it
 I'm just saying don't get offended its hard to reminisce on things thats unattended

I took their hate and then I left it
 I did what no one expected to change the world is my intention to take earths beef and shred it these immature wars are pathetic life's a struggle and they don't get it I'm just telling those ears thats mended that my beginning just barely ended

Music can be one of the best stress relievers and a way to cool off. No one thinks of how and what music can do to open your mind.. Music is more than just a beat with lyrics, music is also a story of the song writer. Most people who become musical entertainers write their songs based on their background of their struggles or their life successes. Actually music started with poetry like William Shakespeare, Edgar Allan Poe, and William Wordsworth. I use music as an escape from stress or anything I can't handle and just be in my own.

So when it comes to listening to music, playing music, or even making music you just have to remember to open your mind and let the music play for you and you will see the difference in how you look at it or a new perspective.
